With each passing year, Canada chooses to achieve reconciliation in an attempt to build a benevolent reputation rather than to implement the substantive and structural changes that would remedy the current damage and change the course of our collective relations. Paternalism "We know better" the mentality of politicians that excludes indigenous peoples from leading with their own solutions. That should be about 3,000 words. 03. To this end, we work with indigenous artists and photographers (both authorizing existing works and commissioning new ones). In this special, Yellowhead conducted a series of interviews at the 2019 Jane Glasco Northern Fellows with the aim of broadening the research and perspectives of northern Indigenous political analysts. They are written in op-ed style, for a wide audience, and range from 800 to 1000 words. The Jane Glasco Northern Fellowship is a policy and leadership development program that recognizes the potential for leadership among northern youth who appear to be facing the political challenges facing the North. READ EXECUTIVE SUMMARY "Public Interest" Use the interests of non-indigenous Canadians to explain their actions (or lack thereof). We meet every two months to read and evaluate all incoming proposals and we will contact people once publication decisions have been made. Despite this, we also find a continuing inability on the part of the federal government to meaningfully implement the Calls to Action that would change the different realities experienced by indigenous peoples in this country. Anti-Indigenous Structural Discrimination Canada affirms legal myths to justify expropriation and poverty. It has been six years since the Truth and Reconciliation Commission published its six-volume Final Report, along with 94 Calls to Action, aimed at raising awareness of the need to protect the population from poverty. Allā ē structural heritage of Canadian residential schools and to promote reconciliation in Canada. If you are interested in contributing in this format, please submit a proposal or a one-page profile of the proposed report, rather than submitting full-length pieces. This is more movement on calls to action in three weeks alone than in the last three years, appointed a language commissioner announced on June 14, 2021 National Day for Truth and Reconciliation announced on June 3, 2021 Citizenship announced on June 21, 2021 Any completed call to action is welcome news. This red document is ultimately the indigenous consensus. Framed by the recent revelations of thousands of children's graves discovered on the ground of several residential schools and with signs of a new resolve among Canadians to work for reconciliation, this year's report finds three new calls to action have been completed. We work to make sure that our briefs, special reports and everything else we publish are accessible to the community public. 05. We encourage observations from two-spirited, trans, and youth communities on indigenous politics. 04. We also publish longer yellowhead reports. In addition, we examine various forms of compensation, recognition and termination with examples of reclamation - significant indigenous economies outside of state policies and legislation. Accepting this truth exposes any notion of simply "reciting" the relationship between Indigenous and Canadian peoples for that purpose. onos onos daehwolleY id itnemucod I .etanizeiles etsethcir el ettut rep oiraronu nu erffo daehwolleY .tikioot ē acifargofni ,iretiric id pils esse onosop esrosir etseuQ .aisatnaf aruP : Ā incisive, current and critical interventions in the fields of politics, legislation, law, governance and justice concerning the peoples of the first nations. YELLOWHEAD has created this resource page starting from March 2020 with content that could be useful to indigenous communities to prepare and face the impacts of the Covid-19 pandemic. The page also includes reflections on the impacts of the pandemic in various media forms. 02. 02.
